GRAPHIC DESIGN IN PRACTICE

Five self-directed projects showing range across campaigns, editorial design, posters and early brand exploration.

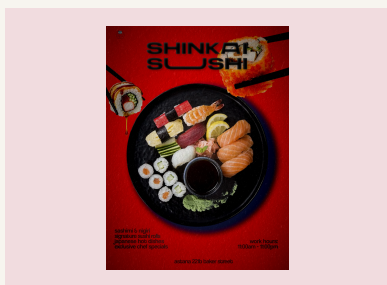

01 Type & Feeling

Poster design / Typography

Built three independent poster studies - Weekend Blooms, Lalagul and LNGSHOT - around distinct moods, type voices and compositional rhythms.

Focus: hierarchy, expressive type, colour contrast and print-inspired texture.

02 Sushi Social Club

Campaign design / Art direction

Created a nine-post concept campaign for an imaginary sushi club, connecting varied layouts through deep red, close food crops and bold display typography.

Focus: campaign consistency, social composition and product-led art direction.

03 Claude Magazine

Editorial design / Art direction

Designed an eight-post editorial series that gives an AI topic a warmer, more human visual language through modular frames and tactile texture.

Focus: editorial hierarchy, modular systems and image-type relationships.

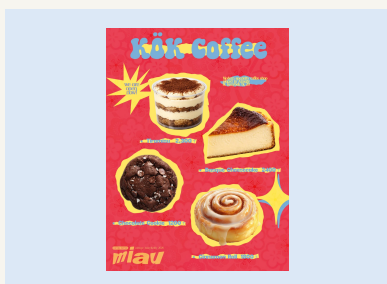

04 Macaroon Club

Campaign design / Art direction

Developed nine playful dessert posts using pistachio green, cherry red, paper texture, product crops and oversized serif headlines.

Focus: visual rhythm, colour systems and variation across a social series.

05 Kok Coffee

Brand exploration / Graphic design

Explored an initial visual direction for a coffee concept through the relationship between naming, typography, colour and one finished composition.

Focus: brand character, concept development and graphic composition.
